July 15, 2016

Dear Cholla District Residents,

2016 has started off strong for Glendale from an economic standpoint, with the Office of Economic Development assisting more than a dozen businesses locating, opening new headquarters or expanding operations in the city. The additional businesses have demonstrated growth in four target industries: manufacturing, medical technology, advanced business services and signature retail and entertainment. This small group of companies represent an estimated 3,000 jobs at full build out, with the process of hiring 1,000 of those jobs currently underway. The combination of economic growth and sound fiscal policies will continue to improve our city's economic stability.
